

This Restaurant and Wine Bar has been named to honour

Sylvia Ada Jones nee Murphy.

As wife to Brisbane's Lord Mayor, Aid Clem Jones, Sylvia was the Lady Mayoress of Brisbane from 1961-1975 during which time she performed in many different ways and made a great contribution to life in Brisbane.

Her roles included establishing the historical and arts collection for the city of Brisbane, chairing many charity fundraisers, including the Lord Mayor's Charity Ball and the 1974 Brisbane Flood Relief Committee and contributed to the Brisbane Children's Hospital Appeal through the Lord Mayor's Command Performances, which were a major feature on the Brisbane City calendar. Whilst admitting she was not a natural sportswoman, Sylvia Jones played a major part in developing Downy Park Women's Sport complex, completing the work done by her predecessor, Lady Groom and was known to tee off or shoot a goal at charity sports events.

Sylvia Jones represented the City of Brisbane at the launch of HMAS Brisbane in Bay City Michigan USA in 1966.

Always a gracious woman, Sylvia entertained with diplomacy and style mixing with people from all circles of society, from Queen Elizabeth 11 and the King and Queen of Thailand, to young mothers pushing prams.

Many of Sylvia's paintings, silverware, glassware and antiques grace the various rooms in Shangri-la Gardens and we are reminded of her wonderful taste in all things, especially her appreciation for fine food and wonderful wine.

We are proud to name this restaurant in her honour.
